1. Presentations:

Mike Urner, Wells Fargo and David Ivarie, Morgan Stanley, investment advisors to the foundation, attended the meeting and gave a report of portfolio performance for the period April-June 2013. Total return for the quarter was down by 6.88 percent, which is an unrealized loss. Total portfolio value for the quarter ended March 31, 2013, was $1,823,740.62 and for the quarter ended June 30, was $1,731,119.70.

Mike commented that we had a perfect storm of a quarter with a noticeable and violent rise in interest rates as well as a stock market that was more volatile and more abnormal than we've seen since Orange County went bankrupt in 1994. He added that the foundation's portfolio is built to earn income to provide for scholarships and other foundation needs and that the overall yield of the portfolio is starting to get larger. "As time goes by, we will see the benefit of what we're building."

Foundation staff director Ken Stoppenbrink commented that you should never base decisions on one quarter. Mike added that the foundation is not chasing returns but the portfolio has been created to generate 5-7 percent returns in each year.
